Students seeking to matriculate in the NUI are required to present six Leaving Certificate subjects, including Irish, English and a third language. A student who is certified by a qualified professional as having a condition causing such a learning difficulty in relation to language acquisition as to warrant exemption may be exempted from the requirement to present Irish and/or a language other than English for matriculation. This means that the student may substitute other Leaving Certificate subjects in place of the Irish and another language. It is drawn to the attention of professionals completing this form that the purpose here is to make special provision for students who in all other respects can be expected to meet the standards required for NUI matriculation but who, because of their learning difficulty in relation to language acquisition, should not be required to present the subject 'Irish' or another language apart from English as a Leaving Certificate subject. It is not the intention that students should qualify for exemption on the basis of poor standards of literacy.
